The National Army Museum
Friday 6th February 2024

Year 2 pupils had a lovely day out at the National Army Museum, where they attended an engaging, hands-on workshop on Mary Seacole and Florence Nightingale as part of their History topic on 'Life changers'. Pupils were able to handle artefacts and even get to try on some special outfits!

We were very fortunate to have one of our parents, who served in the army for many years, come along and explain how he drove a tank just like the one outside the museum. We were fascinated to hear about how many people can live in a tank (four!) and what each soldier's job is, including cooking meals for everyone inside the tank!
